The minor in Society and Environmental Issues is designed to introduce students to the diverse human dimensions surrounding environmental issues, specifically the role of individuals, communities, and political institutions in developing and maintaining long-term environmental quality in the face of increasing human demands on resources and the environment. Students will develop a basic understanding of both human and natural systems through the required core coursework, as well as have the opportunity to select courses that deepen their understanding in a particular human dimension of interest.

A total of 15 semester hours are required.

Required Core Coursework (6 hours):
ENR 2100 (3), 2300 (3)

Controlled Electives (9 hours). Add courses from one of the following 3 focus areas to meet the 15 unit minimum requirement.

Individuals and Communities

ENR 2500 (3) OR 2501, 3400 (3), 3470 (3), 3500 (3), 5480 (3)
